

Stretch your clinic revenue with

Physiquality is PTPN’s consumer brand, designed to market PTPN members as the providers of choice in their communities whenever people want help improving the way their bodies move, feel and function. This includes traditional therapy services and cash-pay health and wellness services, so Physiquality benefits your office whether or not you offer “retail” wellness services.

If you do choose to diversify your revenue by building a cash-pay clientele, Physiquality is your source for information and resources, including 1) discounts on programs and products, 2) training and tools for the “retail” side of your business, and 3) a national/regional marketing strategy.

These programs and products are available at a discount through Physiquality:
